Subject: Planning Commission 2016 in Review

The Planning Commission 2016 In Review showcases significant development projects throughout the City, features important planning initiative and implementation efforts, and highlights the accomplishments of the Planning Commission and Planning Bureau staff. As Long Beach continues to grow and thrive with new construction activity and developments being erected throughout the City, the attached report visually commemorates the actions of the Planning Commission on many of these high-quality, innovative, and highly anticipated projects.

The Planning Commission provides an invaluable service to the City, providing leadership and insight on all matters affecting development in Long Beach and safeguarding the interest and quality of life of the community. In 2016, the Planning Commission and staff worked with the Mayor and City Council, developers, architects, and business owners on an array of projects. These efforts help to create more safe and attractive neighborhoods, and contribute to the livability and economic growth of the City.

If you would like additional copies, or for further information regarding the Planning Commission, please contact Amy Bodek at (562) 570-6428.
