First Annual Mayor's LB Business Awards Ceremony

I attended the inaugural Mayor's Long Beach Business Awards ceremony last Friday night. Fifty business leaders were recognized for outstanding contributions to our city. Twenty of the fifty are affiliated with the 4th council district, and I recognized those individuals with certificates from our office. Congratulations to all the winners, and thank you for all your contributions to the Long Beach community. CD4 affiliates included the East Anaheim Street Business Alliance board, the Midtown BID board, Joe Mendez of the LBGL Chamber and Mina and Luis Hernandez of Deli News. "The Changing of the Guard" Event Aboard the Queen Mary

Saturday night, Urban Commons, the new leaseholder for the Queen Mary, threw a party aboard the ship titled "The Changing of the Guard." The event followed an announcement earlier in the week that the firm would invest $15 million in refurbishing the ship's interior over the next two years. Urban Commons also released a statement: "Renovations are anticipated to commence later this year, with a completion date slated for late-2017; The Queen Mary will remain open to guests during this time. The renovations onboard the ship will precede a large-scale development plan in the works that will bring to life a must-visit mix of retail, dining, adventure and entertainment options on the 45 acres of currently underutilized oceanfront land adjacent to the ship."

First Circle Area Business Organization (CABO) Meeting

Tuesday afternoon, we held the inaugural meeting of the new Circle Area Business Organization. The main goal of the first meeting was to introduce the business owners/property managers to each other and connect them to city resources. Thanks to all the businesses for attending, and thanks to our City resource representatives including: Homeless Services Officer, Teresa Chandler; Chronic Homeless Initiative Coordinator, Shannon Parker; Homeless Services Advisory Commissioner, Peter Griffith and LBPD Officer Jesus Espinoza.

P-T Editorial on International Airport Feasibility Study

Today's Press-Telegram features an editorial on the Federal Inspection Service (F.I.S.) facility study coming to city council. Last week, council unanimously approved my proposal to delay the council vote until 15 days after the study is released. The P-T

Editorial Board agreed by stating, "Supernaw is right in wanting enough time to have quality community meetings before final action by the council." The Board went on to say that a council vote should not take place during the busy November-December holiday season, and I completely agree with them. You can read the P-T editorial at this link.

And Finally

"Most Interesting Man in the World" Meets the Dos Equis Guy

At Saturday night's "Changing of the Guard" event aboard the Queen Mary, actor Jonathan Goldsmith served as master of ceremonies.

He is best known for his portrayal of "the most interesting man in the world" character in the Dos Equis ads. His famous tag line, "I don't always drink beer, but when I do, I prefer Dos Equis", netted the company a 35% sales increase over its 10-year run. He told me Saturday night that the inspiration for the character's voice came from the late actor Fernando Lamas who was a sailing buddy of Goldsmith's. "Stay thirsty my friends."
