Past Events

"Go Long Beach" at Umberto International Clothiers

On Wednesday morning, I met the crew from LBTv to shoot a segment for the "Go Long Beach" video series. The location was Umberto International Clothiers on Bellflower Blvd. next to Hof's Hut. I had the privilege of interviewing the man himself, Umberto, who has been a Los Altos institution for over fifty years. Umberto told us about his store's history, celebrity customers, support of the Ronald McDonald House Charities, and he even taught us how to say Go Fourth! in Italian... Andare Quarta!

All proceeds to benefit the MOWL B meal program for the home-bound. Please visit their website for information or tickets!

Placement of Refuse and Recycling Bins

After posting "rainy day adjustments" in a previous newsletter, we're back to business as usual regarding bin placement during clear weather. The Long Beach Municipal Code (LBMC 8.60.060) states that carts, commercial bins, and manual refuse receptacles shall not have any obstructions in front or within two feet (2') of sides and top of receptacles. Two feet (2') of space shall be maintained between carts. Recycling containers shall be placed together at least two feet (2') from all carts and bins. In addition, each receptacle shall be placed for collection not earlier than the evening preceding, nor later than six a.m. on the day of regular collection. Receptacles placed at the curb shall be removed within twelve (12) hours after the refuse has been collected (LBMC 8.60.070).

And Finally

The Traffic Circle - Then and Now

With the reaction received from last week's vintage photo of Hof's Hut Los Altos, we decided to feature another vintage shot from a different part of CD4. The photos below were taken facing down the hill on PCH from just east of Termino Avenue. The top photo is likely from the 1940's. There appears to be a military jeep on the Circle, so it may have been taken during the war years. The bottom photo shows some of the development that has taken place, and continues, in the Traffic Circle area.
