

Autrilla Scott (Class of 1996) was a prominent community leader in Long Beach and a retired nurse, who passed away in February 2013. She was an author, a poet and was nominated for the city's distinguished "Volunteer of the Year Award." In 2000, she became the first African-American woman to have a Long Beach City lane named after her. Originally from Hope, Arkansas, Mrs. Scott bore the distinction of baby-sitting for a young Bill Clinton when she was a teenager and reunited with him when he visited the area as U.S. President. Neighborhood Services is partnering to hold an I Dig Long Beach memorial tree planting in Central Long Beach in her honor on Saturday, April 26, 2014.

Dedicated Graduates of the Neighborhood Leadership Program who gave so much to our community and worked tirelessly to improve our city. They live on in our memories and in the work they did to better the lives of others through their selfless efforts, their commitment and perseverance.

Louise Kripal (Class of 2008) served an active role in the East Village Arts District and was the East Village Association newsletter editor. She passed away on May 3, 2013. Louise started a nonprofit organization to help the disabled. Among her involvement in many local organizations and community improvement efforts, she was on the boards of the Long Beach Arts Association and the homeowners association where she lived. In tribute of the selfless work she gave to our community, Neighborhood Services is partnering with community organizations to hold an I Dig Long Beach memorial tree planting in her honor on Saturday, February 22, 2014.

If the family were a fruit, it would be an orange, a circle of sections, held together but separable - each segment distinct.
