

LONG BEACH POLICE DEPARTMENT

COMMANDER

Anthony Lopez

Commander Anthony Lopez began his career with the Long Beach Police Department in 1991, and has since worked in each of the four patrol divisions, as a Field Training Officer, and as part of the Community Policing Team.

Commander Lopez was promoted to Sergeant in 2001 and to Lieutenant in 2018. He has served in various roles throughout his career, including Field Training Program Supervisor, Office of the Chief of Police, Criminal Intelligence Section, Federal Bureau of Investigation's Joint Terrorism Task Force, Joint Regional Intelligence Center and Patrol Watch Commander. Prior to his appointment, Commander Lopez served as the Administrative Lieutenant for the Patrol Bureau.

Commander Lopez holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Vocational Education from California State University, Long Beach and has taught at Long Beach City College in the Administration of Justice Program. He is a graduate of the Sherman Block Supervisory Leadership Institute and the Peace

Officers Standards and Training Management Course, and is currently attending the Leadership Long Beach Institute, class of 2020.

Commander Lopez is a member of the Commander Officer Association and the Law Enforcement Intelligence Unit Organization.

