The following questions will help determine if there is any reason we should not give you (or your child) the MPX vaccine. Answering "yes" to any question does not necessarily mean you (or your child) should not be vaccinated. It simply means additional questions must be asked. If a question is unclear, please ask your healthcare provider to help explain.

Information on the risks and benefits of the JYNNEOS vaccine

Currently, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has authorized emergency use authorization (EUA) for the JYNNEOS vaccine to allow healthcare providers to use the vaccine by intradermal injection for individuals 18 years of age and older who are determined to be at high risk for monkeypox infection. The EUA also allows for use of the vaccine in individuals younger than 18 years of age determined to be at high risk of monkeypox infection; in these individuals JYNNEOS is administered by subcutaneous injection.
