

City of Long Beach Office of Sustainability

Green Business Intern

Description

The City of Long Beach Office of Sustainability works to create a more sustainable community by engaging with individuals, neighborhoods and government to reduce our impact on the environment and protect our local natural resources. Long Beach Sustainability reports to the City Manager's Office and supports the Sustainable City Commission, an advisory body to City Council.

The Green Business Intern will support the certification and recognition of sustainable businesses in Long Beach through outreach, marketing, and technical assistance to businesses. This is an exciting opportunity to work at the intersection of business and local government. You'll learn about what it takes to be a sustainable business and how local government can encourage a more sustainable economy.
